THE IMPROVED

JONAS F. WELCOME,

Inventor and Manufacturer,

418 Dillwyn St., Philadelphia, Pa.

BELT LACES ALWAYS ON HAND.

ALL GOODS GUARANTEED THE BEST MADE.

CLAIMS.—All the strength of the natural raw hide, after being toughened or cured by my process, attains pliability and will not cut the belt, but always remain soft. Durability.—The fibres of the hide are not separated by the grinding of any machine or wheel with the aid of steam, causing the hide to be pulpy and spongy, as is often the case of other processes. By my process the fibres of the hide are left combined together as in the green natural raw hide, but are toughened without drawing up the hide, thus affording an elastic and firm close fibre leather and not stretchy. It will cut by machine or lace cutter, and cut easy all over the side flank also; all bad flanks, if not fit for laces, are trimmed. It Will Stand Great Strain and not crack. The grain is buffed, thereby preventing its breaking; for as the grain cannot stand as much stretching as the long fibres of the hide it cracks, communicating fracture to the lace when properly stretched and causing it to break also. Uniformity of Thickness.—Pride is taken in good workmanship, well knowing that manufacturers and consumers of lace need an even, strong and thin string that will not slip on the pulley. It will ply easily and keep its shape when cut into strings, and easily commend itself to the trade by its fine finish. Try it. It will sell itself.
